There are others you will be quick to appreciate if you will come in, if only for a "try on." And we won't urge you to buy unless you are convinced that the New York tailors who designed this suit know more about style and the kind of honest making that keeps the style in a suit as long as it is worn, than any other tailor, whose product are within your reach.

IS GIVEN JUDGMENT

Miss Irene Laing Against Herbert A. Streeter

FOR THE SUM OF $79,904

Last Year She Received a Judgment of $100,000 Against Vincent C. Price—Misuse of Funds is the Charge.

CHICAGO, June 20.—Miss Irene Laing, daughter of Cuthbert W. Laing, was given a judgement for $79,904 yesterday in Judge Pickney's court against Herbert A. Streeter of Evanston, Ill. A year ago she received a judgement of $100,000 against Vincent C. Price. Both Mr. Streeter and Mr. Price, signed bonds for Mr. Laing when Miss Laing, his daughter was a minor. She was left valuable real estate at the death of her mother Mr. Laing's alleged misuse of the funds entrusted to him as guardian of the property was the cause of the suits by his daughter.

When Miss Laing who now resides at Ann Arbor, Mich., became of age in 1904, she signed a release to her father. This was set aside by the court, which held that it had been secured under duress. It was shown that most of the real estate had been lost through real estate investments. The court held that Mr. Laing and the necessary consent of the court had been obtained to make the transfers for the minor daughter.

An attempt was made to bring Mr. Laing into court by the attorneys representing Miss Laing. He refused to come, sending a telegram from Toledo, Ohio, where he now resides, that he would not appear in behalf of Mr. Streeter.

Judge Pinckney instructed the jury to return a verdict for Miss Laing. Mr. Streeter, the defendant in the suit is 74 years old.

The needlework of the pupils will be displayed at the Academy of the Holy Names, Wednesday, June 24, from 2 to 5 p. m. Those interested are cordially invited.

In describing his controversy with the Gould family, the prince said: "It was a terrible struggle which I gained by standing and doing nothing. MANY NEW BALL FINDS American League's Crop of Recruits Better Than In Years.

CLASSY PITCHERS NUMEROUS

Manning, Vickers, Burns, Chech and Summers Have All Twirled First Class Ball—Several Catchers Look Good—Infielders and Outfielders.

Many, indeed, were the young baseball phenoms picked up by the American league scouts last season. In particular the number of classy pitchers that were gathered was remarkable. Outside of Chicago there was not an American league club that did not succeed in pulling in a star pitcher as the result of the dragnet that was thrown out last year.

Of the pitchers, Manning, Vickers, Summers and Burns have looked the best, though it is possible that others are just as good, but have lacked the chance to display their ability. This is particularly true of the Cleveland recruits, Jattimore and Chech.

Manning, the New York find, has the best record of any, he having won five out of the first six games pitched. Vickers has been the Athletics' winning pitcher this season. Burns, the Los Angeles left hander that Cantillon of the Washingtons picked up, has proved to be a phenomenal youngster. True, he has lost a few games, but that was because things broke badly for him, and it was not as much his fault as that of his team mates.

Summers, the fourth of the galaxy of star youngsters, has made a most favorable impression wherever he has performed. He was Detroit's winning pitcher at the start of the season and then had to "lay off" in consequence of a twisted ankle.

Vickers is not the only ripe young sanger that Connie Mack picked up. Carter and Schlitzer have done excellent work for the Athletics, and Maxwell did well enough to keep him on Connie Mack's payroll.

Graham has been the only youngster tried out by McAleer this season, but he has proved very effective against certain teams, and if he is not worked too often he looks as if he would go the route all right.

Cleotte and Burchell of Boston are only fair. Cleotte was touted as a wonder after he succeeded in downing the New Yorks, but his famed "knuc-kle ball" has been easy for Boston's opponents since then. Burchell evidently is not right yet, for he has not shown the form that he did with Baltimore.

The other young pitchers that have been retained on the payrolls are Graney of Cleveland, Lake of New York, Cates of Washington, Malloy and Suggs of Detroit and Freeman of Chicago. Malloy looks fairly well, while Suggs has not rounded into shape. Cates is a warm weather man and has not done anything astonishing. Freeman has not had a trial, and Graney is now out of the game with a broken finger.

The young catchers that were landed are Davidson of Cleveland, Sid Smith of Philadelphia, Street of Washington, Blue of St. Louis, Blair of New York and Carrigan of Boston. Carrigan has been tried before, but is doing better work than when with Boston two years ago. Davidson, Blue and Sweeney have not been tried, while Blair has caught but two or three games in consequence of the excellent work done by Kleiow.

The best two of the lot, however, seem to be Smith of the Athletics and Street of Washington. Street has batted hard, and Smith has also carried off his share of the honors with the stick. Each has performed creditably behind the bat.

The new infielders are Atz of Chicago, Killifer of Detroit, Perring of Cleveland, Ball of New York, McConnell and Lord of Boston, McBride and Freeman of Washington. The two "live ones" in this bunch are Ball and McConnell, with Lord a fair third.

McConnell has proved to be a fast fielder and a sensational batter, leading the league in hitting for a couple of weeks. When Elberfeld was splked Ball was called upon to go to short. Elberfeld's absence has not been felt in the least, Ball doing some sensational fielding and timely hard hitting.

Lord is said to be almost as fast as Thoney in getting down to first base. Atz has done nothing wonderful for Chicago, but has fielded acceptably. Killifer has had but two chances to show what he could do, but his batting more than made up for his errors.

Perring, who is always slow to get started, was only fair at first, but later he was fielding splendidly, and Cleveland is sure to retain him as utility infielder. McBride has been up in the big leagues. He is a weak batter. Freeman is a good first sacker, but will not break up the league with his batting.

As for the outfielders, there are several new men that are sure to be carried all year as regulars. Foremost among them are Josh Clarke of the Naps and Thoney of Boston. Clarke has proved to be a good man to lead off the batting order for Cleveland, while Thoney's batting ability and speed have made him very popular with the fans of the Hub. Gessler, Cravath and McHale have done fairly well for McGuire, but Thoney has performed much better in every way.

The other youngsters that are still on the American league payroll are Pitcher and Utility Man Criss and Outfielder Schweitzer of St. Louis, Outfielder Moran of Philadelphia and Utility Man Eddie Collins of the same team. Collins, however, has been carried by Mack for two years.

YALE TO HAVE FINE CREW.

This Year's Boat Will Be Handled by Eight Strong Oarsmen. Rowing affairs at Yale are now assuming definite shape both as regards the varsity boat and the freshmen squad.

What is practically a varsity eight has been picked, and its form is such that veteran oarsmen predict a strong crew than the blue has had for several years. The crew is rowing as follows: Stroke, Griswold; 7, Captain Ide; 6, Howe; 5, Dunkle; 4, Hunt; 3, Rice; 2, Peyton; bow, Auchincloss.

Of the crew Griswold stroked and Peyton rowed in the varsity four, and Ide, Howe, Rice and Auchincloss were in last year's eight, while Peyton was a promising substitute.

No chance to gauge the crew's mettle will come until the New London races, as the crews for the steward's races at Philadelphia were composed of substitutes.

The freshmen squad has been weeded to two boats, and the final selection promises the best freshman crew Yale has had in years.

KEENE'S COLIN WINS.

NEW YORK, June 20.—The 15th successive victory, was added to his record today by Colin, James R. Keene's unbeaten 3-year-old when he won the tidal stakes at Sheephead Bay today in an easy fashion. The tidal stakes are, for 3-year-olds and are worth $14,500 to the winner. Today's winning with that of Ballot in the suburban Friday, makes Mr. Keene's returns from the two races $35,000. The distance, 1 1/4 miles, time, 2:40; Dorantee, second by two lengths, and Stamina third by four lengths.

GARRY HERRMANN OPTIMISTIC

Cincinnati Club's President Says His Team Will Land in First Division.

"I believe with Manager Ganzel that the Cincinnati Reds will go east early in June in the first division. "The team is playing splendid ball now despite its handicap of comparatively little spring practice.

"There ought to be gradual and natural improvement during the next three weeks, with a sufficient number of victories to place the team on the sunny side of the .500 mark."

This is the optimistic view which President Herrmann takes of the chances of the Reds to give their followers a run for their money in the earlier part of the present campaign.

"We will have the eastern teams for our opponents for nearly three weeks, and it is at the expense of the Atlantic coast section that we hope to get among the first four," continued Mr. Herrmann.

"I have been watching the work of the eastern teams closely ever since the season opened, and I have failed to see where any one team has been doing anything out of the ordinary. With the New Yorks it's mostly Mathewson. Boston has been improved by the addition of Bowerman, but the general work of the pitchers does not appear to be more effective than last season.

"The Philadelphias have secured a bad start for a team that is so highly touted, and their opportunities for improving in their work while they are on the road will be extremely limited. Brooklyn will miss Stricklett and Alperman and does not strike me as being particularly strong in the outfield. "Altogether the prospects for the Reds doing some climbing between now and the 1st of June seem to me to be exceedingly bright."

Keeler Hitting the Ball Hard.

Willie Keeler of the New York Americans is keeping up his pace as a hitter, and it looks as if he will be the same old good batter again this season. He is one of the hardest in the business to pitch to and knows what to pick out and hit.

Promoter Wittig Cleared $15,000.

Promoter Wittig says he made $15,000 on the Gotch-Hreckenschmidt wrestling match.
